

ART FOR A CAUSE

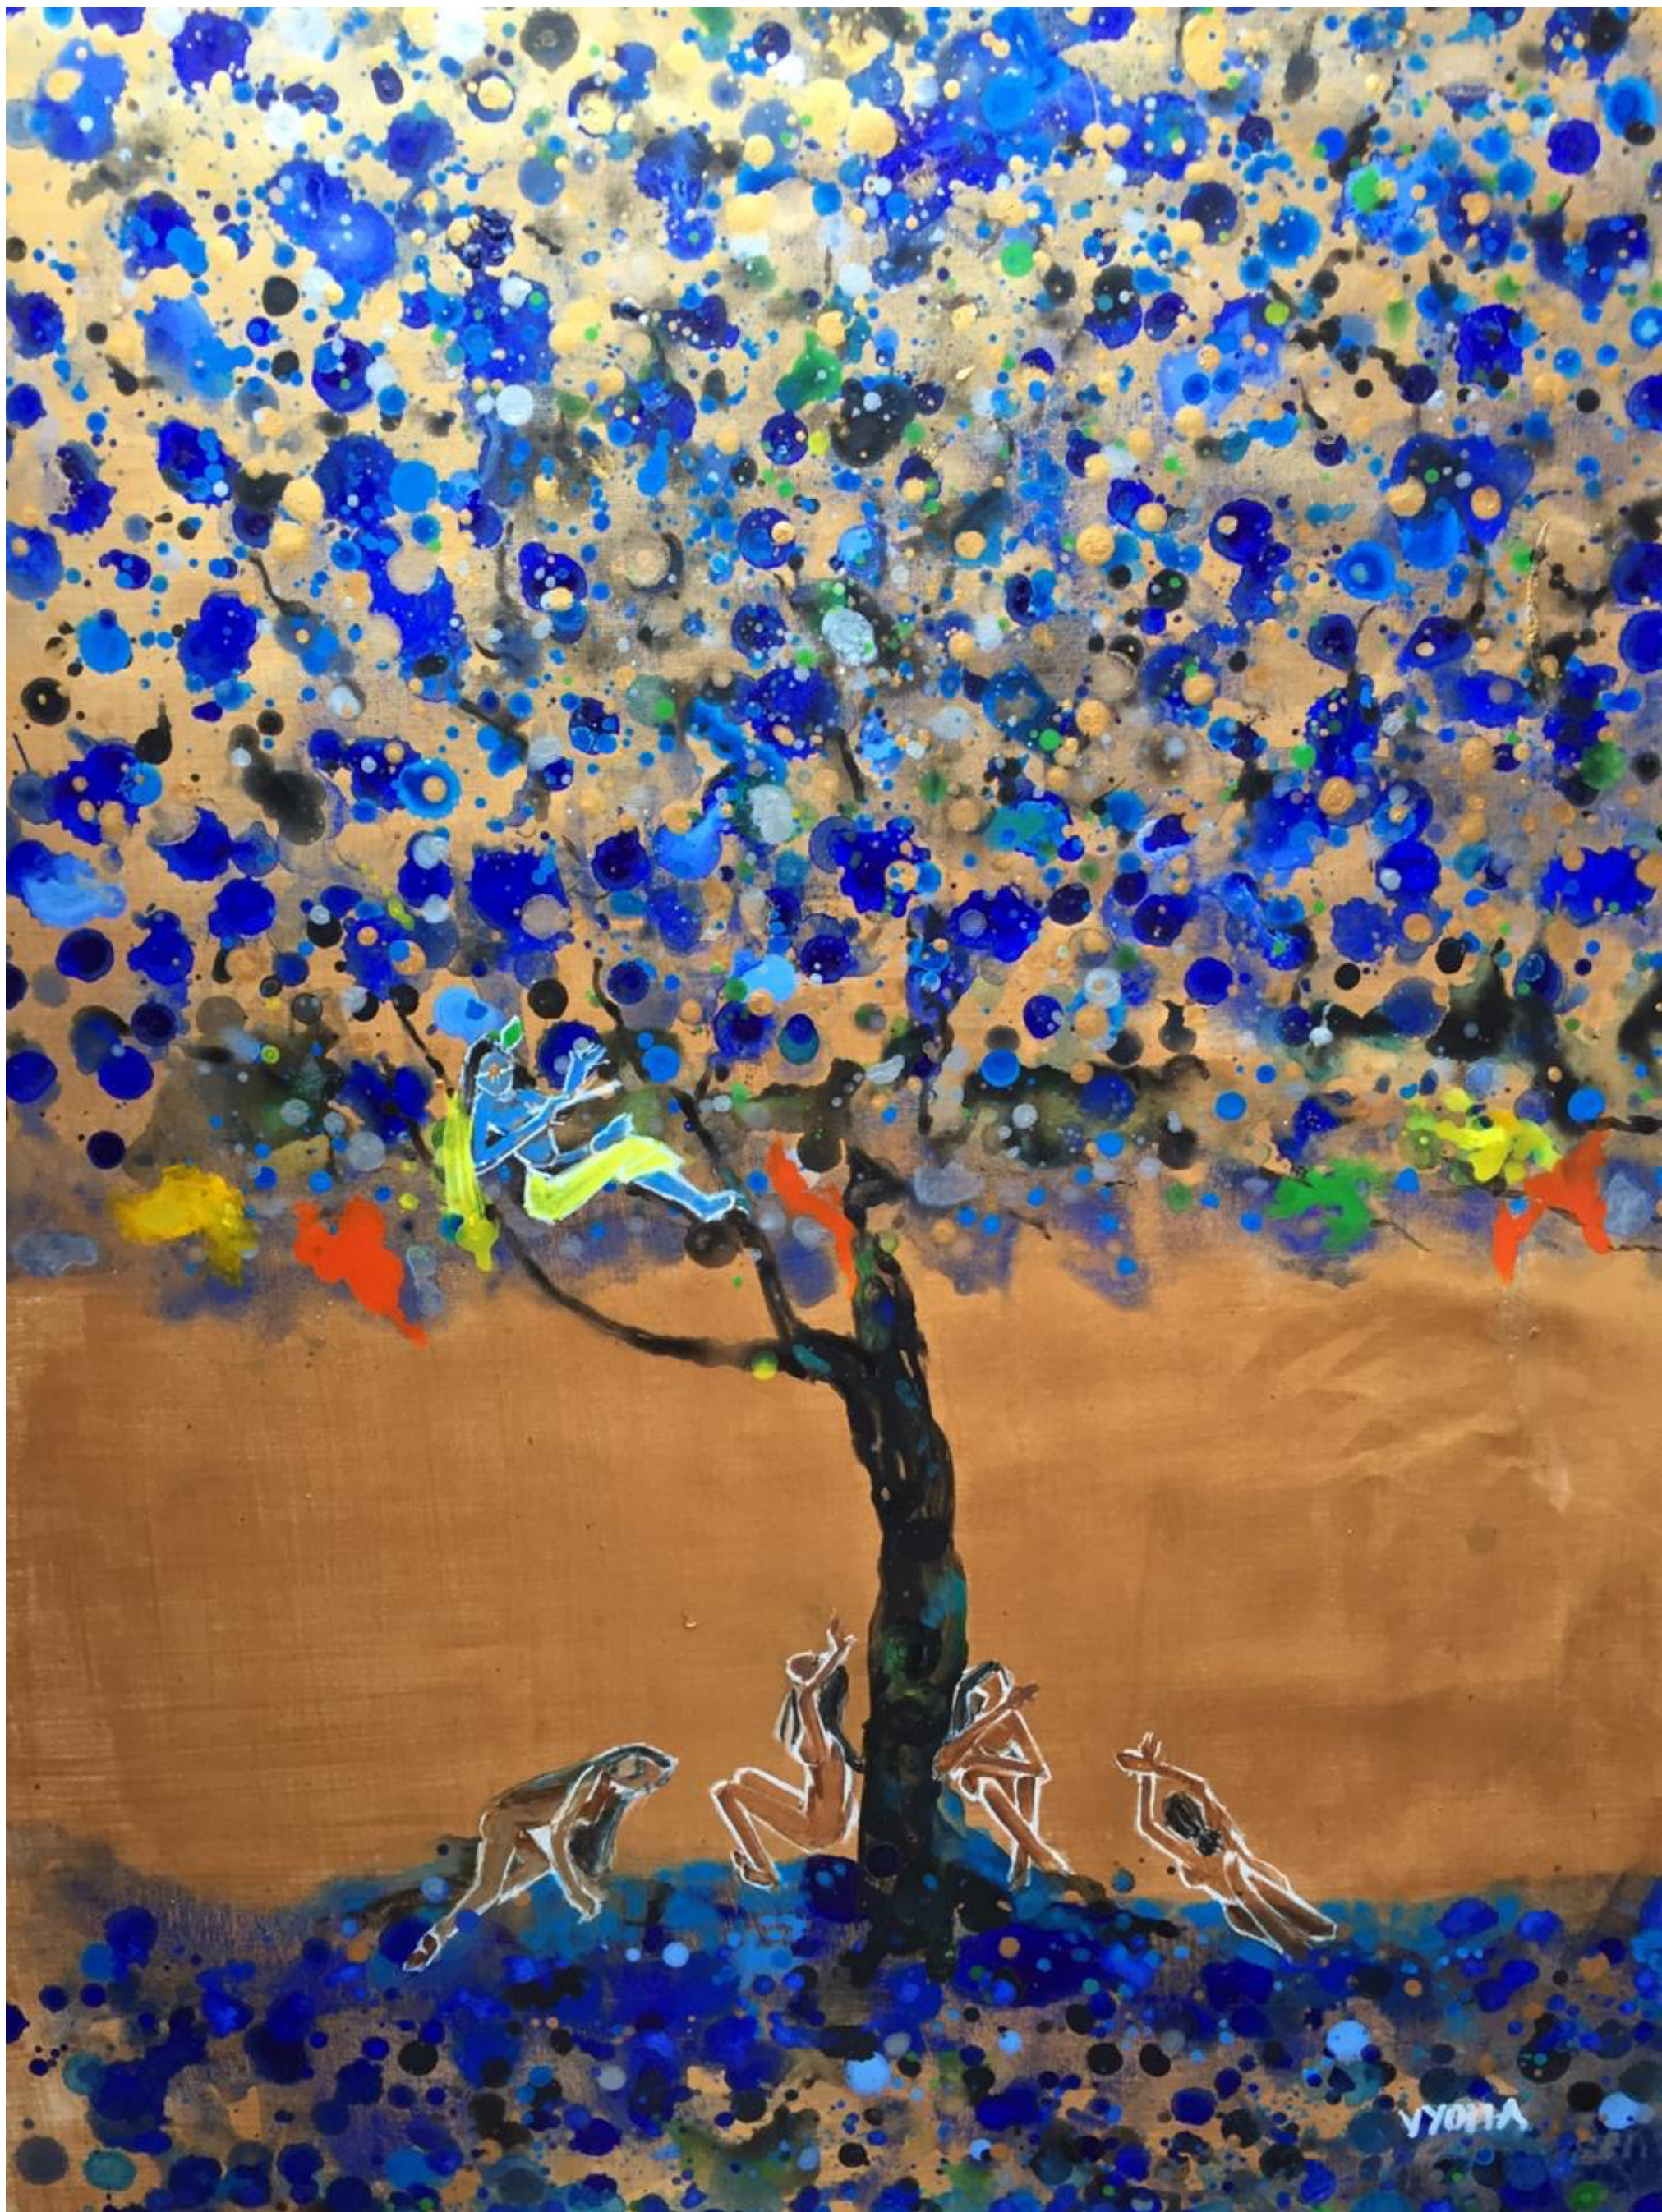

In these tough times it is important that we come together for the better of the world at large. It has been incredibly encouraging to see how people are working towards helping those in need. With that in mind, as an artist, I too, with your support, would like to spread some joy and happiness to those who really need it in times like these.

I have put together a catalogue of some of my personal favourite paintings that I have created in the past year. I would like to gift these paintings to the person who would donate the amount mentioned against it to any of the charities listed on the last page. The painting will be gifted to the person who donates first and forwards their receipt of the donation to me. Additionally please follow me on Instagram and Facebook.

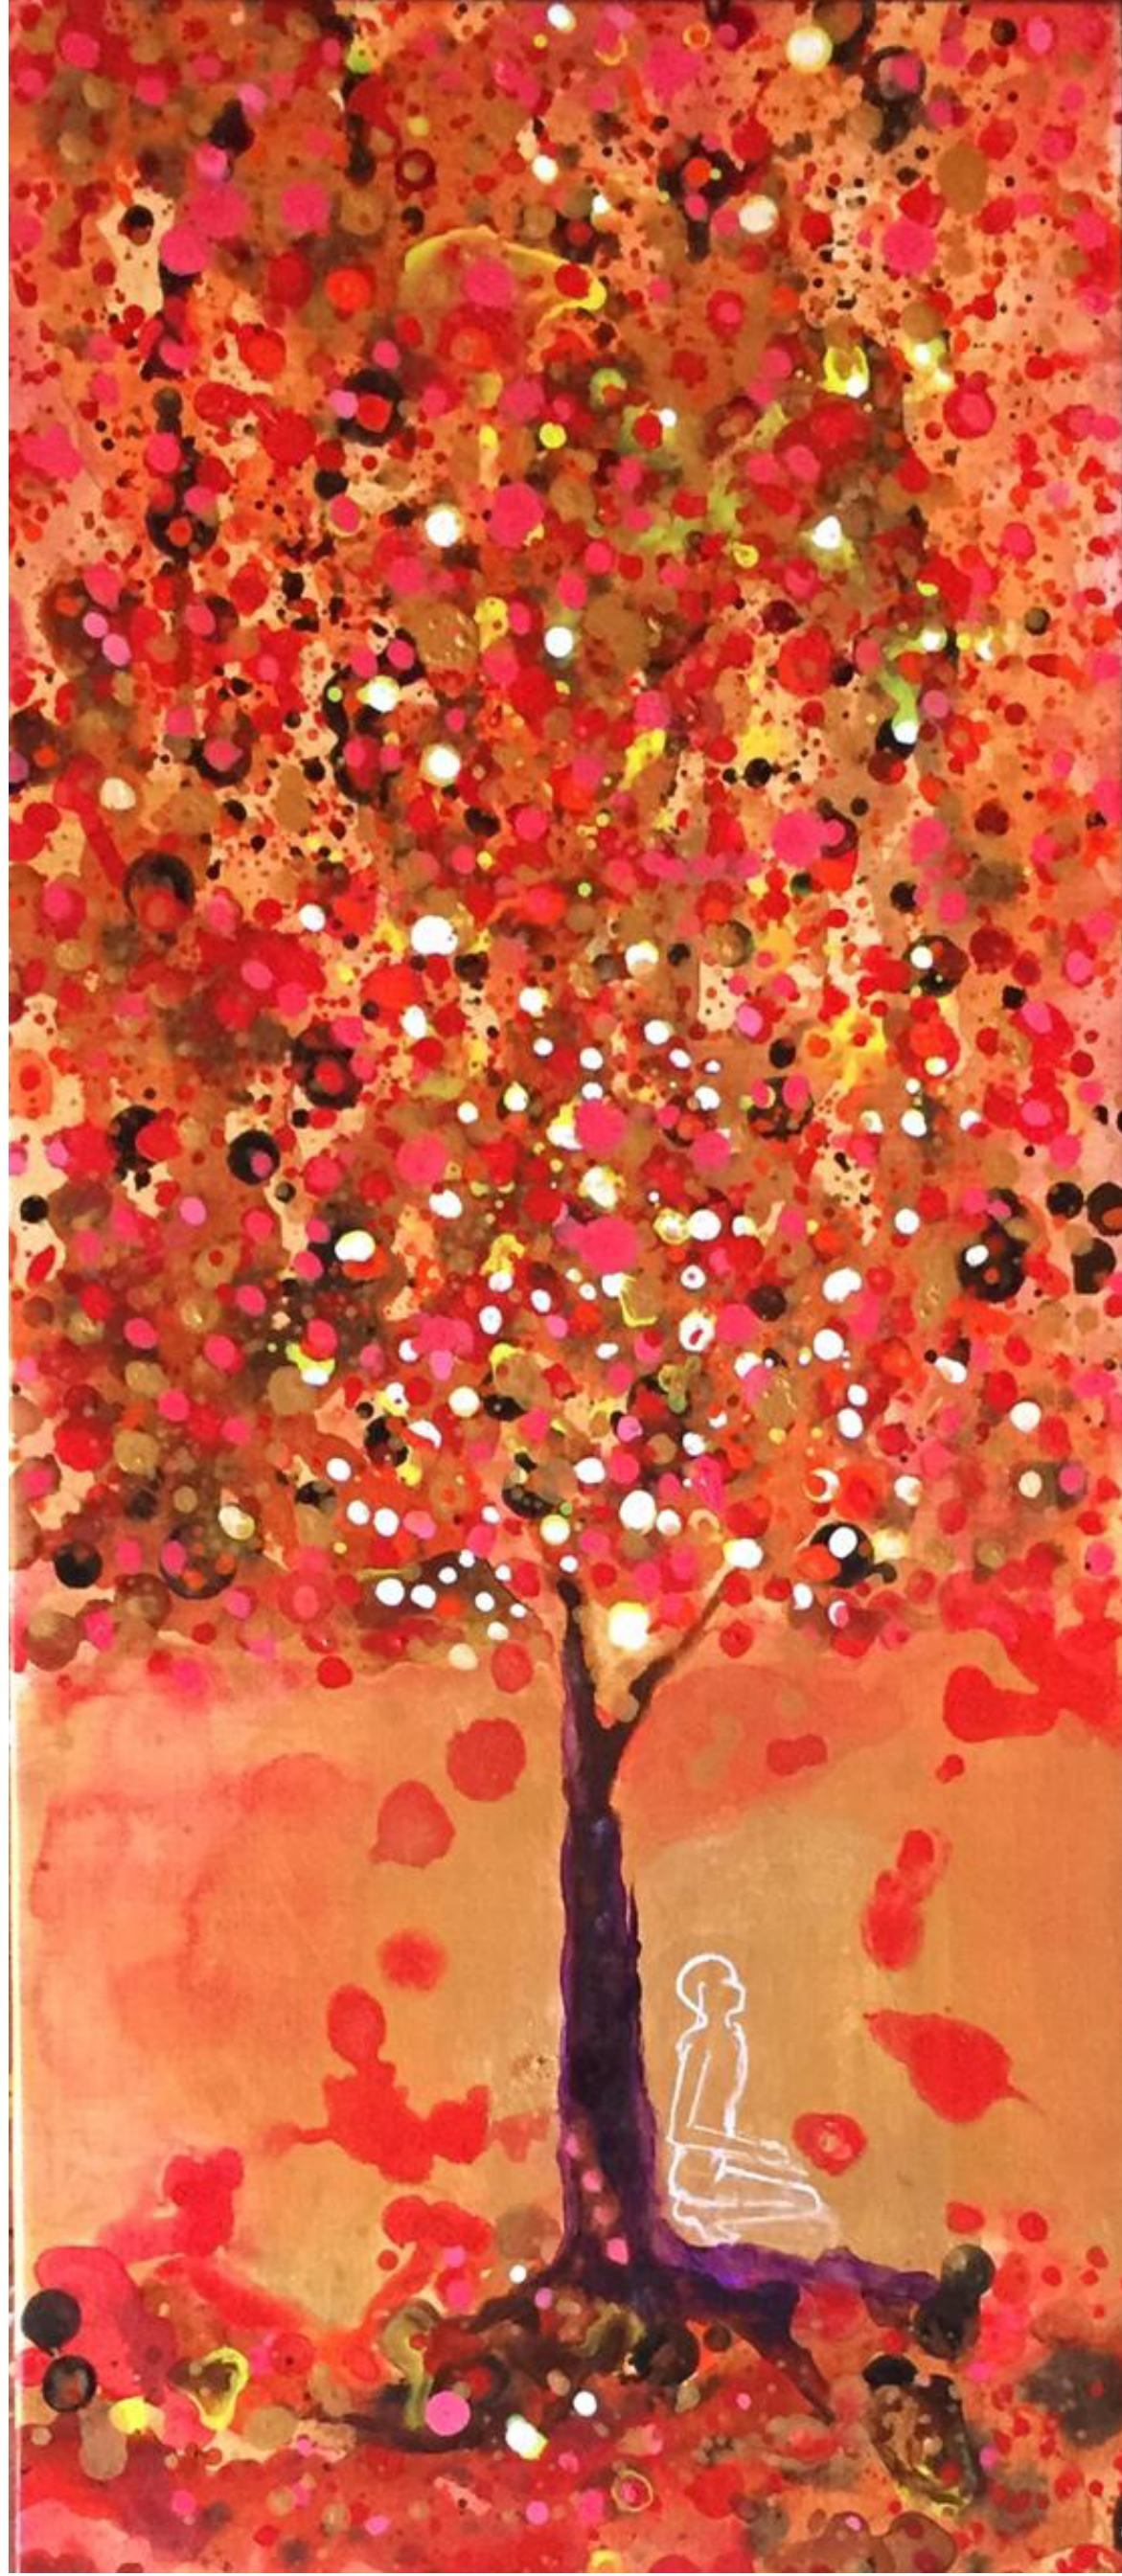

Thank you,
Vyoma Parikh

These are some charities that I believe contribute to important causes and empower parts of society that are ignored and looked down upon.

Please feel free to look them up and select any one of them that you would like to donate to. Upon making a donation equal to a value of the painting of your choice, please send me the receipt so I can process the order of your painting.

All paintings will be delivered post the lockdown, without framing.
